Chips

A mother and her young hopeful of some five years were coming down G Street the other day, and the youngster, who was riding a tricycle, turned into the walk leading to the Architectural School, where all the nice statues are.

"Come back, son," admonished the fond parent. "You're not old enough to go in there yet."

All of which reminds us that The Razz Berry is scheduled to make its appearance just a short week from now. The brethren of Pi Delta, so we are told, have decided to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth this time. There will be no more fantastic stories of University buildings going up in flames, or of faculty necking parties. If they'd ask us, we could tell them a lot of truth that would create a sensation for weeks to come.

Debating seems to be coming back as a major sport at G. W. Our observer tells us that no less than 150 turned out to the Princeton contest, and that the men from Old Nassau marveled, for they were accustomed to audiences of five or seven. Now, if we had our usual turn-out, the Tigers would have felt at home. Southern hospitality, indeed!

We don't approve of this rushing at all. Not only can't we get a date even for the best show-in town without being forced to take some sweet young freshman along too, but business is so brisk at noon that we are jostled off the sidewalk in the mad rush for the Food Shop. Wonder how long $150 will last at this rate?

Our hero for this week is Dr. Enrique Olaya Herrera, who was able to address the Spanish teachers in convention assembled, and then have sufficient strength left to be elected President of his country. Versatility, that.

The Art Promoters' Club plans another of its all-night parties. For five dollars one gets to wear a costume, dance, play bridge, drink coffee to keep awake, and eat breakfast. Oh yes, we mustn't leave out the dramatic readings, and the oriental dances. And the day following being a holiday, everything looks favorable for a great evening.

Getting serious for a moment at least, let us urge you to buy your cherry blossom early—such a purchase helps an organization which is helping George Washington.

Not content with just being in Dutch with the government, the radio club plans a bear hunt. When will somebody step on these kids?

Those who seem to be left out in the rush of sororities for "material" may find some consolation in the headline, "Non-sorority Girls Win at Volley Ball." Even the Greeks are not infallible.

If people arrive as late as they generally do at the Interfraternity Prom, stags who come early in the hope of grabbing a few dances before the actual program begins will be sadly disappointed. Something ought to be done about this, Jimmie.

The Columbian Debaters (number present not known) unanimously repealed the Eighteenth Amendment at its last meeting. Since, so far as the University is concerned, the Amendment stands, we are certain that the forensic warriors adjourned elsewhere to celebrate their victory.

The Marines have landed at G. W. and have the situation well in hand. We long to see competition among the C. M. T. C. men, the R. Q. T. C. medics, the National Guardsmen, and this Marine reserve unit—all from G. W. Looks like a long, cruel war, children.

The Hatchet Office gang has been learning to write headlines tonight—possibly because some will be used in the Razz Berry. Still, if this goes on, and no mistakes are made in headlines, what will we find to write about?

Did you notice how unsuccessful the University has been this year without class officers?

MUSIC FOR PROM GIVEN BY MEYER DAVIS MUSICIANS

Society Orchestra Will Furnish Music for the Big Dance

PATRON LIST INCLUDES DEANS AND THEIR WIVES

Wandering Greeks and Professional Fraternities to Have Boxes

Meyer Davis' Society Orchestra has been selected to furnish the music for the Interfraternity Prom on February 28 at the Willard ballroom. This orchestra, led by Kamons, is much sought after. It has played at the latest senior prom of the University of Virginia, several prominent clubs of Princeton University, at debutante parties in Washington, Richmond, Rochester, N. Y., Savannah, Ga., and at the National Park Seminary. It has also played frequently over the radio.

According to the programs which have just been given to those who have bought tickets, the music will begin at 10:30 p. m. sharp. Break dancing will be allowed for the first hour. At 11 o'clock the twelve numbered dances start. After the sixth dance, about 12:15, the Grand March will be held. The Grand March is probably the most traditional and distinctive feature of the yearly Prom.

Led by Edith Norris of Kappa Kappa Gamma, escorted by James Fleck of Acadia, chairman of the social committee of the Interfraternity Council, the girls with their escorts will march the length of the ballroom and receive their favors from Harold Farmer, president of the Council. Then the trophies awarded by the Council to the various fraternities will be formally presented.

The Razz Berry will appear promptly after the Grand March. The Razz Berry, always full of scorching satire that has enough truth in it to hurt, is rumored to be more interesting and truthful than ever this year. In fact, this editor will be known as the "truth man."

All prominent students and school officials are said to be filled with a twofold fear as the release date of the Razz Berry approaches: First, that they will not be recognized by it and will thereby be relegated to an ignominious corner; and second, that they will be recognized and satirized with vigorous truth on some weak point.

After the Grand March there will be six numbered dances, a part of which will be break dances.

Interfraternity men in the University who do not have a local chapter, popularly termed wandering Greeks, will have a box this year at the Prom. These fraternity men are urged to get in touch with James Fleck or some other interfraternity delegate and obtain tickets and complete arrangements for their box at the prom.

From present appearances the weather will be more appropriate this year than it has been for several years past. Later in the spring, the temperature is often too warm for comfortable dancing.

Patrons and patronesses of the Prom as announced up to date: President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Dean and Mrs. Howard Lincoln Hodgkins, Provost and Mrs. William Allen Wilbur, Dean and Mrs. Charles Edward Hill, Dean and Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, Dean George Neely Henning, and Miss Alice Henning, Dean and Mrs. William Cline Borden, Dean and Mrs. William Cabell Van Vleet, Dean and Mrs. John Raymond Lapham, Dean and Mrs. William Carl Ruediger, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barrows.

Those who have not obtained their tickets may obtain them from the interfraternity delegates: Harold Farmer, Sigma Nu; James Fleck, Acadia; Arthur Davis, Sigma Phi; Epsilon; Robert Gray, Phi Sigma Kappa; Norment Hawkins, Kappa Sigma; Floyd Pomeroy, Theta Upsilon Omega; Russell Coombes, Theta Delta Chi; Scott Rigby, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Charles Cole, Delta Tau Delta; Jasper Highsmith, Kappa Alpha; and William Snow, Sigma Chi. Tickets are also being sold by the following representatives of fraternities, not on the Council: Ralph Morgali, Sigma Mu Sigma; Robert Boswell of Phi Chi; and Kenneth Yearns of Sigma Theta Delta.

TROUBADOURS FORM A STUDENT ORCHESTRA

Daniel Beattie, New Musical Director, to Have Charge of Organization of Group

Until now the G. W. Troubadours have lacked an important requisite of such an organization—a student orchestra. The orchestras previously used have been groups hired from outside the student body. Dan Beattie, recently elected musical director, has taken as important step that will round out the organization. He announces that for the remainder of February, he will endeavor to organize a Troubadour orchestra. Work in the orchestra will be rewarded by yearly credits toward the Troubadour emblem, along similar lines to the award for chorus work.

Applicants for places in the orchestra must be willing to spend time rehearsing, and must be thoroughly interested in the Troubadours, as are the choruses, the cast, the directors, and the authors. Any and every type of musical instrument will be used.

Applications must be mailed to Daniel C. Beattie at the Theta Delta Chi House, 1714 Rhode Island Avenue, and must contain this information: name, address, and phone number of applicant; hours when they can be reached at these numbers; type of musical instrument, and previous experience.

Previous experience is not necessary. Beattie is anxious to begin work at an early date, so the first applicants will be the lucky ones.

PICTURES TO BE TAKEN FOR 1930 CHERRY TREE

Cherry Tree pictures will be taken Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays in the evenings until February 26. The hours are from 8 until 10. Subscriptions to the 1930 Cherry Tree may be made through Joe Howard at the Kappa Alpha House or at the Bursar's Office. A dollar deposit may be made, or the cost of the book, four dollars, paid in full. The ballot for Miss Colonial Belle should be cast at the time of subscribing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1930

RUSHING

Rushing season for George Washington University Sororities opened Sunday. Freshmen women have had a semester in which to become acquainted with the school and make casual contacts with sorority girls. Since Sunday there has been such a series of parties and private conferences as to overwhelm an unprepared newcomer. Mushroom friendships spring up and rash promises are made. This is a time in which to keep one's head and remember that rushing is not over until the last minute of the tenth day.

The chief object of second semester rushing is to give a longer time in which the Freshmen and sorority girls may become better acquainted, so that fewer mistakes will be made. One semester is not long, however, and there will still be attractive girls who in the general rush will be overlooked. It is not a disgrace to remain a non-sorority co-ed; many do so from preference and enjoy their college course as greatly as those who are members of these select cliques. The idea that there is a stigma on those who do not "make" a sorority is entirely false; it is only one of the many campus activities.

And let us give a word of warning! Professors are no respecters of this obvious claim on time. They continue to assign lessons, and even give exams, and show little leniency to the co-ed who trips in unprepared and yawning. The first few weeks are often the most important in a course, and without the foundation which they give, the student is hard pushed to successfully pass the course. It is well worthwhile joining a sorority, but it can be of little real advantage if one is forced to leave the University a few months later.

HOOR GLASS

Hour Glass Honor Society has recently pledged six members, representing the most outstanding women in The George Washington University who have not hitherto been elected to the organization. These women are chosen because they have made creditable scholarship for at least five semesters in college and have done outstanding work, showing both ability and leadership in at least two fields of college activity.

Those girls in the University who are affiliated with many groups and yet have never done work of importance in any are not included in this group of honored students nor are those who have not qualified with commendable scholarship. Students who do not have the ability to stick to some course of work until they have mastered it or at least acquired a certain degree of skill in it will never give enough to any line of activity to benefit either the organization or themselves. The number of students who can carry the required number of classes with good grades and through worthwhile participation in activities help their University, is limited and the honor of election to such a society as Hour Glass is deserved.

DEBATING

The debate held last Saturday between The George Washington University debating team and the team from Princeton University served to bring out again, as has been brought out frequently in the past, the position of George Washington University among the leading schools in the field debating.

One of the speakers of the Princeton group remarked that he was quite surprised at the attendance which heard the debate. At Princeton, he said, the audiences at debates consist largely of the judges, while at this debate Stockton Hall was well filled by the large audience. It appears that the student body of George Washington University is beginning to realize the position which their school is taking in the field of debate.

Under the very able coaching of Professor Yeager, further forward strides may be counted on in the future. The fact that the new Oregon system of debate, which is described elsewhere in this issue, was used in the Princeton engagement, shows the forward-looking policy of the debating organization.

One of the most encouraging features of this meeting was the comparison which the audience might have made between the two groups of speakers. While no official decision was rendered, the opinion of an unbiased portion of the audience seemed to be that the George Washington speakers had presented a case considerably better than that of their guests from Princeton.

Among those who attended supper at the Theta Delta Chi on Sunday night were Kitty Beall, Frances Hand, Mildred Battle, Josephine Raynor, Betty Rose, Evelyn Iverson, Ruth Warren, and Dorothy Schenken.

Mary Hudson, Margaret Selvig, and Della Little went to Columbus, Ohio to attend the Panhellenic convention from February 14 to 16.

EPISCOPALS ARRANGE TRI-DIOCESE CONFERENCE

Episcopalians of George Washington University met last Wednesday evening at the Brick Wall Inn, 1905 K Street N. W., where they combined dinner with discussion of the affairs of the Episcopal Club.

Robert Moncre, president of the club, announced today that final arrangements were made at the last meeting for the holding of the Tri-Diocesan Conference of Episcopal Clubs in this city February 28 to March 2. He said that the Episcopal Clubs of George Washington University and American University will be hosts to delegates to the conference from universities in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The purpose of this conference is to bring together students from different institutions for the discussion and solution of religious and campus problems.

Dorothy Ruth, Elizabeth Bunten, Caroline Seibert Anne Cooper and Mrs. Harry Hull are representing the Y. W. C. A. of George Washington University at the Mid-Winter Conference of the Student Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., of Maryland, Delaware, and Washington, D. C., to be held the week-end of February 21 to 23. The conference will be held on a campus "afloat," starting from Baltimore, then to Hampton and Old Point Comfort, Va. Any student interested in the work of the College "Y" is eligible to attend this conference and may register through the G. W. Y. W. C. A. in Mrs. Barrows' Office.

Bishop Paul Jones, Harry Foulkrod, Y. M. C. A. Secretary at the University of Maryland, Wellington Pinker, "Reds" Scholl and Gladys Taylor are the well known leaders of the conference, who will hold meetings on the boat and at Hampton Institute.

Dorothy Ruth is one of four speakers who will present the different aspects of the Student Movement at a Student Movement Dinner, on board the boat on Saturday evening. The G. W. Delegation will probably entertain the other conference members at a "George Washington" party following this.

The registration fee is $1.50 and the boat trip, room and meals $8.30. It is hoped that a large representation will be present.

Stockton Hall Is Scene Of Women's Debate

Frye, Bonwit, Feinstein Represent George Washington; Maryland Is Next Opponent

The women's debating team of Swarthmore College met the George Washington University group last Friday evening in Stockton Hall. "Resolved, That the present tendency to provide liberal education for the masses" was the subject.

Virginia Frye, Julia Bonwit, and Louise Feinstein spoke for George Washington, taking the negative side of the question. Prof. Willard Hayes Yeager presided. No decision was given.

For their next debate, the members of the team will go to the University of Maryland, College Park, on March 6. They will argue the same subject at this time, but will take the affirmative side. The three girls who will speak on this occasion have not yet been selected.

COLONIALS AGAIN GAIN EVEN BREAK IN WEEK'S GAMES

Courtmen Take Measure of Gallaudet, But Drop Dull Game to Navy

COSGROVE AND RINGLE CHECKED BY G. W. GUARDS

Three Navy Teams Run Away With Annual Game, Routing Colonials 45-18

The Colonial five again split its bill for the week by defeating the Gallaudet team and losing to the Navy five. The G. W.-Gallaudet game was one of the most exciting and well played games that has taken place in the G. W. Gym this year. The Navy game was rather dull throughout.

The start of the Gallaudet game was fast, but few baskets were made during the first few minutes. Fine, of G. W., started on a scoring spree and ran up a total of four baskets during the first half. The Colonial quint showed well in floor play and accuracy in shooting. The high scoring men of the Gallaudet team were held to rather low scores by the combined guarding efforts of Gray and Hoover. During the first half, play was even and the score was close until the last few minutes when the Colonials drew ahead making score, 17-14 at the end of the half. The second half was in G. W.'s favor throughout, since it doubled the scoring of the Gallaudet five during this time.

Fine and Ringle Star
Fine was the outstanding player and scorer of the game. He ran up a total of 13 points to lead the scoring list and showed exceptionally well in floor play.

Cosgrove, leading District scorer, was held without a point by Captain Gray and Ringle, another high-point man of the Gallaudet team, was held to one basket by Hoover and Blaine, of G. W.

The final score was 31-21.

Captain Gray, of G. W., received a foot injury and was unable to play in the Navy game, but will return to the games this week.

Middies Use Subs

The Navy game started slowly, the score being 4-0 at the end of five minutes play. The Navy five then started scoring to run up a large score which it easily maintained. The first squad of the Middies played the entire first half. The half ended with the score 21-6 in the Middies favor. During the second half the second and third squads of Navy went into the fray. They showed a very stiff defense and good offense. (The game proved to be very dull and ended with the score, 45-18.)

Candidates For Track To Report Feb. 20

Practice to Start February 24 on Georgetown University Board Track

There will be a meeting of all men interested in track on Friday, February 20. The time and place of the meeting will be posted, so candidates are requested to watch the bulletin boards. Track men attending night school are urged to come out as time may be arranged for them to practice as well as the day men.

Practice for the team will begin on Monday, February 24, on the Georgetown University outdoor track, under Coach Gene Sexton. A very strong squad is expected this year as there is plenty of good material at G. W. Coach Sexton plans to enter the Catholic University indoor track meet on March 12. The rest of an attractive schedule will be announced in a later edition of The Hatchet.

BOXERS LOSE TO CARDINALS BY 6-1

Three Matches Are Lost Because Of Ineligibility of Colonials

COVELESKI WINS MATCH

Zeno Gains Close Referee's Decision Over Duffalo in 175-lb. Division

George Washington University's debut into intercollegiate boxing was made last Wednesday at The Catholic University Gymnasium with the dire results of a 6 to 1 defeat still ringing in our ears. At the last minute, only three hours before the bouts were to start, three Colonials were declared ineligible. As was later proved one ineligibility was a mistake. This circumstance turned what might have been a good fight into a one-sided affair.

Dave Cohen, fighting in the 115-lb. class and making his boxing debut forced DePasquale to the limit before the decision was finally awarded the C. U. boxer. In spite of the superior speed of the Colonial boxer the better ring generalship of DePasquale made the decision inevitable.

Coveleski Wins

Leo Coveleski, fighting in the 135-lb. class turned in the greatest thrill of the night in his knockout victory over the C. U. football flash, Johnny Oliver. This occurred in the second round and was the only Colonial victory of the evening and incidentally the only knockout of the evening. There was no doubt as to the decision of this bout.

To fill in the time left open by the ineligibility decision there were some very interesting bouts by the C. U. second string.

In the 175-lb. class, John Duffalo and Zeno stood toe-to-toe and slugged three hard, fast rounds. There was but little actual boxing in these rounds and because of the frequent blows struck the judges seemed to have a little difficulty in arriving at a decision. However, the decision was finally given to the C. U. boxer, Zeno.

Decision to Malevich

In the main attraction of the evening "Reds" Oeschlager and Captain Malevich slugged and bear-hugged through three slow uninteresting rounds before the decision was given to Catholic University. Nevertheless Oeschlager looked like a man who would improve rapidly and much may be expected from this lad in the future. Malevich held the big advantage of experience since this was the first fight for the Colonial boxer.

The bouts given at the C. U. Gymnasium before a very large crowd were handled in a very excellent and gentlemanly manner and good sportsmanship was particularly noticeable.

COLONIAL COURTMEN FACE C. U. SATURDAY

Dope Favors Victory in First of Annual Games at Brookland

With more than an even chance of registering a victory, Coach Joe Mitchell and his squad of Colonial basketballers will invade the Catholic University gymnasium this Saturday night for the first of their two annual games with the Cardinals. Although this is the first time that one of the traditional court games has been staged on the holiday, the Buff and Blue quintet is hopeful of giving their followers a real reason to celebrate, likewise hoping to avenge some of the recent indignities suffered at the hands of the Brookland lads in other lines of sport.

To date, the 1930 Colonials have been playing some hang-up ball, notwithstanding their last defeat at the hands of the Navy team at Annapolis. Victories over Gallaudet, Randolph-Macon, and Virginia Medical College have stamped it as a vastly improved quintet over that of recent years and prospects of continuing the season in a successful manner are unusually bright.

On the other hand, C. U. is experiencing one of its worst years on the court, having won but two games since the campaign started, and having dropped their last fourteen starts. With the exception of Joe Walsh, there is hardly any performer of the team in a class with Capt. Bob Gray and his mates. Football performers of last season have been added to the squad to no avail, and their rough and tumble style is in marked contrast to the smooth-working play of Coach Rice's teams a few years back.

On paper, G. W. should win in a walk, but in the realm of sports "paper figures" are by no means accurate, and at least a spirited contest should be on the books for Saturday night.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC RALLY IS TERMED SUCCESSFUL

Great enthusiasm was shown in the Girls Basketball Rally, held on February 14, in the Gym. A large number of girls turned out and enjoyed the hour.

Julia Denning acted as Master of Ceremonies, and called on Naomi Crumley, captain of the varsity team, and Marion Lum, sophomore captain for extemporaneous speeches.

Miss Lawrence, Coach of the Varsity, and Miss Atwell, head of the Department, also spoke.

The cheerleaders, Olivia Watkins, Jane Menefee, and India Bell Corea led class and varsity songs and cheers. The rally was concluded with a snake dance around the Gymnasium.

G. W. CO-EDS DEFEAT FAST GALLAUDET TEAM

Frosh Beat Juniors and Sophs Defeated Seniors in Class Basketball

The G. W. co-ed basketball team opened its 1930 season, when it trounced the fast Gallaudet sextet by a score of 29-21 at the G. W. gym on February 15.

The game was fast and close with victory hanging in the balance until the last quarter when G. W. forged into a safe lead and managed to maintain the advantage till time was called. The home team distinguished itself by its fast and accurate passing and by the very good team work exhibited. There were fewer fouls called on G. W. sextet than on the visitors, which shows that the rigorous training of the past few months has been valuable in more ways than one.

An unusual feature of the game was the presence of a G. W. cheering section. There were representatives from each of the four classes who cheered during both the class games and the varsity contest.

Of the two class games played before the varsity mix-up, the junior-frosh contest was by far the most exciting.

The freshman sextet finally defeated the juniors by the close margin of two points, the score at the final whistle being 24 to 22.

The game was closely played, although neither team had played together as a whole long enough to time their passing very well or execute any regular plays.

In the other class game, the sophomore easily emerged the victors by a 29-9 score, with the ball going into the soph guard territory not more than five times in the entire game.

The seniors did their best, but their own lack of team practice and the superior passing of their opponents told against them.

In the second half, an entirely new soph team was sent in, with the exception of Lum, captain and forward, and Rosalie Reed, speedy side-center.

ELLA SOWERS CHOSEN AS HEAD OF BAPTIST UNION

Ella Lee Sowers was recently elected president of the Baptist Student Union of this University.

The Baptist Student Union is a new organization at George Washington and it embraces approximately three hundred Baptists in the University. This society is similar to those already existing throughout 18 states representing 199 Baptist students.

FROSH BASKETERS DEFEAT TWO FOES

Tech, High School Champs, Fall 38-36 By Last Minute G. W. Rally

CARLIN'S GOAL IS DECISIVE

Gallaudet Reserves Prove Easy Victim of Yearlings Who Win, 63-12

The George Washington Freshmen basketballers returned to their winning ways last week by taking the measure of two foes. Gallaudet Reserves fell before the young Colonials last Wednesday, 63 to 12, while Tech, the District championship high school team, was nosed out in a thriller on Friday by a 38-36 score.

As a preliminary to the G. W.-Gallaudet Varsity struggle, the Reserves of the Blues offered practically no opposition, and twelve G. W. Freshmen saw action during the game. Fred Mulvey, a newcomer, was the high scorer for the Cubs. He accounted for twelve points, Mulvey is from Rhode Island and was at Georgetown University last semester.

Down Tech in Thriller

Playing on the Tech floor, the Cubs downed the scholastic champs after a furious battle. Capt. Carl MacCartee, declared ineligible earlier in the week, was not in the Tech line-up, and his absence was instrumental in the Manual Trainers' defeat. The teams played neck and neck the first half, but the Colonials led at the intermission period by four points, 20 to 16.

In the second half the high school champs held the Cubs scoreless from the floor until the beginning of the fourth quarter. The Frosh were five points behind at the start of the last period, but they evened the score at the last minute of play. Lee Carlin rang up a two-pointer for the Yearlings, assuring the victory.

NON-SORORITY GROUP WINS AT VOLLEY BALL

Kappa Kappa Gamma Loses in Final Tilt by Score of 38-36

Volley ball finals that were played in the Gymnasium Tuesday, February 11, were won by the Non-Sorority group composed of Cary Aal, Catherine Grey, Inge Von Lewinski, and Janice Hyatt. They won by a score of 36-26. Mary Detwiler, Jean Jackson, Lillian Breckenridge, Hermione John, and Winnie Faunce were players in the opposing group representing Kappa Kappa Gamma.

This game marked the end of the volley ball season. Approximately twelve teams played each other off during the tournament until only the teams of Miss Aal and Miss Detwiler remained for the final tilt. The volley ball tournament is the second feature this year that the Non-Sorority group has won as it was also victorious in the recent bowling tournament.

Practices for the March basketball tournament are being well attended at present; for every girl must attend four practices before the tournament. Each girl must also have a physical examination. This may be obtained from Dr. Chapman in the Gym Office. It is hoped that this tournament will be as successful as the bowling tournament that was held the first of the year. A schedule for the basketball tournament will be announced within the next two weeks.

At a recent W. A. A. meeting, Miss Von Borries, Director of Women's Sports at Goucher College and head of the Society of Women's Physical Directors along the Eastern Coast, announced that all big colleges were taking up intra-murals. Many, she said, have banished varsity altogether and intra-murals seem to be the coming mode for sport in colleges.

Colonial Riflemen In Two Weekend Meets

Maryland and V. P. I. Defeated at Maryland in High Score Matches

In their first triangular match of the year, the Colonial riflemen defeated Maryland and V. P. I. at Maryland last Saturday. As the match was the first shoulder to shoulder match in the N. R. A. schedule and also the first triangular match of this kind the men showed a great deal of ability by shooting a good score under the strain.

G. W.'s score of 1359 was considerably higher than the score shot against Georgetown a week ago, and a good deal higher than the score shot in the Navy match two weeks ago. Harry Parsons was again high man with a score of 281. Captain Harrell and Boudnot were tied for second, both scoring 274. All the high five scores were good and showed steady shooting.

The match ran unusually smoothly for a triangular meet. Bob Leigh and Frank Parsons again coached the men during the shooting. Their work is very important, and in these two men the team has an invaluable asset.

G. W., PRINCETON DEBATERS MEET UNDER NEW PLAN

Dean Van Vleck Presides at Discussion on Question of Disarmament

CROSS-EXAMINATION IS OREGON PLAN FEATURE

Butte, Hagen, and Laughlin Uphold Negative Side of Question For George Washington

Before an audience of some 150 people, last Saturday evening, the debating teams representing George Washington and Princeton Universities eloquently expressed their views on the subject "Resolved: That nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except such armaments as may be needed for police purposes."

The debate was held in Stockton Hall and featured the new Oregon plan of debating. The Princeton team which upheld the affirmative side of the subject was represented by H. F. Leary, G. A. Chadwick, Jr., and W. Duffus, while the George Washington speakers were Woodfin L. Butte, Norman R. Hagen, and Charles Laughlin. Dean William C. Van Vleck of the law school presided, the debate being a no-decision one.

The Oregon plan of debating is an adaptation of legal debating. Under it the first speaker of each team presents the whole constructive case in 15 minutes. The second speaker of each team then cross-examines the first speaker of the opposing team for 12 minutes. Finally, the last speaker of each team has 10 minutes in which to refute the arguments and the evidence of the opposing team and to summarize the case of his own team.

Princeton Opens

Following this system, H. F. Leary of Princeton opened the debate presenting the affirmative arguments of his team. Leary contended that competitive armaments were the real causes of war by creating the atmosphere necessary for its precipitation. He pleaded for the substitution of a spirit of "International Amity" for one of "International Anarchy." Butte of George Washington then followed with a presentation of the negative arguments. He declared the affirmative proposal to be impossible—both of definition and enforcement. He branded it as purely "idealistic," declaring that National sentiments would make impossible a definition of police powers; that furthermore the affirmative proposals if practiced would arouse a fear of suspicion and evasion on the part of other nations leading to the breakdown of enforcement of all other international agreements.

Cross-Examination

Following Butte's speech came two rapid-fire and spirited cross-examinations. In the first Hagen of George Washington cross-examined Leary of Princeton. During this repartee Leary withstood the withering volley of questions directed at him by stoutly maintaining that peace-minded attitude was the only requisite necessary to enforce his team's proposals. In the following cross-examination, Chadwick of Princeton endeavored to show through his questions that his adversary Butte actually was supporting the Princeton arguments.

Charles Laughlin presented the rebuttal for George Washington. He declared that "Armaments per se do not cause war," and that if the peace-minded attitude advocated by his opponents could be actually created, the whole question would not be debatable.

Lose to Ohio Wesleyan

Duffus of Princeton concluded the debate with the affirmative rebuttal. He pointed out among other things that the causes of war were many and diverse. The Crimean war, he said, was caused by a quarrel between priests over the birthplace of Christ. On Tuesday evening, February 11, the same George Washington debaters were defeated by the strong Ohio Wesleyan team in a debate on the same subject, by a vote of 2 to 1. The debate was held in Stockton Hall also.

The next men's debate will be held here on March 7 with the University of Florida. The subject will be the same, but George Washington will take the negative side on this occasion. The team will be made up of Parsons, Howard, and Duncan.

PHYSICAL ED. TO HOLD INDOOR DEMONSTRATION

G. W.'s first "Physical Education Indoor Demonstration," will be held on Friday night, March 14, at 8 o'clock, in the Gym.

The demonstration, under the direction of Miss Atwell, will include an exhibition of some of the things worked out in Gym classes this year.

Tumbling, gym drill, pyramids, natural dancing, clogging, games and intramural and inter-class relays will be the features of the program. Girls out for activities or in the Gymnasium classes will manage the program.

THREE TEAMS ARE YET UNDEFEATED IN FRAT BOWLING

Phi Sigma Kappa Loses Odd Game to Sigma Chi

T. U. O. TEAM SCORES ARE HIGHEST IN SECOND ROUND

Muth Has High Game of 133, While Fulmer's 330 Set Is Best

Standing LEAGUE A
Theta Upsilon Omega	2	0	0
Sigma Nu	2	0	0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1	1	1
Kappa Alpha	1	1	1
Kappa Sigma	0	2	2
Sigma Phi Epsilon	0	2	2

LEAGUE B
Sigma Chi	2	0	0
Phi Sigma Kappa	1	1	1
Delta Tau Delta	1	1	1
Theta Delta Chi	0	1	1
Acacia	0	1	1

With Fulmer and Dryer showing the way, Theta Upsilon Omega encountered little difficulty in winning the odd game of their set with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, which enabled them to tie Sigma Nu for the leadership of League A. Sigma Chi, by winning over Phi Sigma Kappa, has taken undisputed lead of the other league.

Led by Lefty Fulmer, who contributed a set of 339, the T. U. O's rolled up a total pinfall for the evening of 1496 to lead both leagues in this respect. Fulmer's score was the best individual effort. Topping 505 pins in the first game, the ultimate winners won by a margin of 60 pins. The Sig Alphas rallied in the second game to nose out their opponents by ten pins in a close game. The third game was a repetition of the first. High game went to George Muth, who chalked up 133 in the second game.

K. A. Wins Easily

Sigma Nu, flashing some improvement over their first match, won all three games from Sigma Phi Epsilon. The winners totaled 1445 to the Sig Eps' 1301. Only one game was closely contested, that being the opening game. The Sigma Nus won the final game by more than a hundred pins. Neale, with a set of 306, and Brown, who had 301, were high for the winners, while Arthur Davis' set of 301 stood out for his team.

In the remaining match of League A, Kappa Alpha emerged the victor over Kappa Sigma in another one-sided affair. Winning in their initial effort with a game of only 445, they hit their stride in the second to roll up a total of 500, while 473 was their contribution in the last game. Ragan, a substitute bowler, who only rolled the final two games, was instrumental in the good scores rolled in those games. His efforts earned him games of 126 and 104. Polkhorh was best for the losers.

Ward Brothers Star

Sigma Chi kept her slate clean by continuing her winning way at the expense of Phi Sigma Kappa. By virtue of winning the first two games of their match, the Sigas now are perched alone at the top of their league. With the Ward brothers rolling up high scores and capturing the individual honors, the team totaled a set of 1466. The high team game of the match was registered by the Phi Sigas, when they totaled 495 in their final game. Murphy alone of the losers was able to garner a three hundred set, beating this mark by three pins.

In the fifth match of the night Delta Tau captured the odd game in the match with Acacia. It was the latter's first match of the series as they drew a bye last week. Only in the second game were the Acacians able to exhibit any good bowling.

PROF. RAGATZ ADDRESSES BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE

Higher Education Not Necessary For All Classes of People, Is Belief

Dr. Lowell J. Ragatz addressed the Baptist Young People's Union of Petworth on Sunday evening, on the subject of "The Value of Higher Education."

In his speech he stated that this is a very live subject today. A generation ago it was taken for granted that higher education was good for everybody, but now we believe that colleges are being overcrowded with people who do not benefit by going there. Many people go to college lacking the proper training, the proper background and the proper objectives. They become "lounge lizards" and time killers in school.

The mad desire to send children to universities to improve their social standing has made many people who would have become good plumbers and gas fitters migrants in society.

The present tendency is to urge people to choose their careers at the end of high school and take further work accordingly. If they are going to be grocers they should not spend their time in a university. Engineers should go to an engineering school. If they intend to enter the ministry or teaching or law or if they have a real desire for knowledge, they should go to an arts college and take training.

COURSES ARE CHANGED IN EUROPEAN HISTORY

Kayser to Give Course in Survey of Ancient and Medieval History

A shift in the emphasis from the ancient to the modern has caused reorganization of the European history work, which will be put into effect next year, according to the announcement of this new policy by the History Department.

The course in Ancient History given by Professor Kayser and that in General European by Dr. Ragatz will be abolished and in place of them Dr. Kayser will give a course called "Survey of Ancient and Medieval History" and Dr. Ragatz will conduct a Survey course in Modern History. According to this new arrangement there will be only half of one year's course devoted to Ancient History and a whole year to Modern; the arrangement now is the opposite. These two classes will be primarily for freshmen like the two now given.

These two men will also each give year courses for advanced students, which will deal entirely with the social and cultural phases of study. Professor Kayser will treat "Medieval Civilization" and Professor Ragatz "Europe since Waterloo."

"The Renaissance" and "The Reformation," each one semester courses, will be continued by Dr. Kayser and "The History of Modern Civilization" changed to "Economic History of Modern Europe," followed by "Modern Imperialism" will be given by Dr. Ragatz.

Next year there will also be a change in the teaching staff of this department with the addition of three teaching fellows; this will make quick sections possible for both the freshman classes.

NOTED TRAVELER TO LECTURE HERE

Entire Student Body Is Invited To Hear Henry W. Poor

AUTHOR TO SHOW SLIDES

"Oldest America in the Newest Way" Will Be Subject Presented

Henry W. Poor will address an open meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national geographic fraternity, on the evening of February 20, at 7:30, in Building K-12. The entire University is invited to hear him.

Mr. Poor, artist, author, traveler, has an international reputation as a lecturer, and has won increasing favor by his masterly descriptive powers and the use of beautifully colored slides. He has toured from coast to coast many times, has been to South America six times, and nine times to Europe.

"Oldest America in the Newest Way," is to be the subject of Mr. Poor's lecture. This lecture shows, with the aid of richly colored slides, many of the intensely interesting and picturesque places along the Santa Fe, including much of the Indian-dotted country, where in days gone by, the pony express, stage coaches, and covered wagons stopped; Santa Fe, where the Old Palace of the Governors still stands; prehistoric cliff dwellings; Indian pueblos, and the celebrated Taos Art Colony; Carlsbad Caverns, extending underground more than twenty-five miles; Rainbow Natural Bridge, nearly three times as high as Brooklyn Bridge; Painted Desert, with its matchless colors; Canyon de Chelly, the home of the Navajo Indians; Enchanted Mesa; Inscription Rock; Gallup, New Mexico, during the annual Indian Ceremonials; last, and greatest of all, the indescribable Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Mr. Poor has appeared many times before distinguished audiences throughout the country, in such cities as Boston, New York, Pitts-burgh, Toronto, Buffalo, Milwaukee, and San Francisco. Burton Holmes, world-famous lecturer, says of him: "Both eye and ear are delighted, and reason and appreciation are ap-plaud with conviction."

Parker's New Streamlined Shape

Sets Low
in the pocket...

Feels "At Home" in the Hand

Parker's new streamlined Duofold Pens (and Pencils to match) look neater and set lower in the pocket than others because the clip starts at the TOP—not halfway down the cap.

The smart, perfectly poised shape feels "at home" in the hand—the hand-ground, heavy gold point writes with our famous 47th improvement—Pressureless Touch.

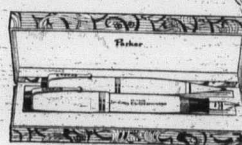

Like 2 Pens for the Price of One

An exclusive convertible feature makes all Parker pens actually like 2 Pens in One. When you buy a pocket Parker you need only a desk base to convert it to a complete Desk Set. We include taper, free. If you buy pen and desk set together, you get a pocket cap with clip free, making the Desk Pen a Pocket Pen, too.

See this revolutionary Convertible streamlined Duofold at any nearby pen counter. The name on the barrel, "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD," guarantees it for your life.
